

NEW JERSEY STATE PBA EDUCATION COMMITTEE

June 7, 2019

To all Delegates and Presidents:

The following courses are still available through the NJSPBA Education Committee. As you can see in the course descriptions, there are two courses that we are making available to the general membership. The Health Benefits seminar and Below 100 are both available to all interested members Statewide. The Health Benefits update is even more critical given the amount of questions members currently have about changes being made in benefits across NJ. Please make sure your members know this seminar is available to all of them. The Below 100 course is an officer safety presentation specifically designed to reduce the number of preventable line-of-duty law enforcement casualties. In today's current political climate, the risks faced by law enforcement are dangerous enough; let's try to educate our Brothers and Sisters better to keep the preventable risks, injuries and deaths as low as possible.

The course list has been posted in the magazine, but please make a point to distribute this information to your members and encourage them to participate.

An educated member is always the strongest member.

The remaining courses are open as listed and we encourage you all to take advantage of the information and knowledge available from the instructors.

To register for courses, please visit <http://scheduling.njspba.com/education>. If you have any questions or suggestions for future courses, please contact education@njspba.com.

Best regards,
